

Leadership Workshops

Developing, Motivating, and Inspiring Leaders

Customized Content, High-Caliber Speakers

Whether you are planning a targeted leadership workshop, keynote address, a one-day seminar, a multi-day board retreat, or a conference for hundreds of executives, our Leadership Workshops provide access to high caliber, experienced faculty with a depth of expertise in the challenges facing the industry.

Our faculty is comprised of academicians, leading organizational development practitioners, coaches, consultants, and motivational speakers who custom design and expertly deliver leading insights and cutting-edge learning sessions.

We strive to deliver thought provoking content, engage participants through interactive dialogue, and build consensus with audiences of all sizes and composition.

Why Choose TLD Group?

- Tailored Fit The innovation in our Leadership Workshops comes from the way each topic is customized, aligned, and relevant to fit the knowledge and development needs of each audience.
- High Touch Service As a boutique firm, we are dedicated to designing and delivering outstanding customer service from first point of contact through the delivery and follow-up evaluation. We ensure your satisfaction through every step of the process.
- Generate Ideas Clients often feel pressure to identify relevant and engaging workshop topics – we understand this challenge and offer a myriad of innovative and timely speaker topics that span the health ecosystem.
- Learn from National Experts We draw upon our esteemed faculty of national industry experts in leadership and organizational development, healthcare trends, academia and research – many of whom can provide post-engagement consultation services, if desired.

What Our Clients Have to Say

I learned much from TLD Group's very talented panel of speakers, which included nationally renowned authors, professors, and thought leaders like Carrie Kish, PhD, Dave Logan, PhD, Drew Lawson, MD, Steve Beeson, MD, and Amy Edmondson, Ph.D.

Steven Foster, FACHE
President, Patients Medical Center
CHI St. Luke's Health System

Our organization has had the great pleasure of hosting a wide range of experienced TLD Group speakers. They have been dynamic and inspiring, able to offer sharp insights with current trends and previous experience to build a credible and engaging dialogue with our medical staff about new ways to build partnership between administrative and clinical leaders.
